WHEN SHOULD TAIWAN COMPANIES COMPLY WITH THE EU GDPR?

Taiwan companies need to know when they may run into problems in other legal systems, and data protection now touches on nearly every other aspect of law. After presentations on some important developments and perspectives on this far-reaching EU law, we'll host an active Q&A session!

About our Speakers:

Geert Somers advises on the legal and compliance challenges of technological developments and connected society (big data, IoT and artificial intelligence). His focus is on data protection and privacy, intellectual property rights (copyright, TM law, database law, trade secrets, domain names and patents), information management, marketing and competition. He is a partner with Timelex in Brussels, Belgium. www.timelex.eu

Volker Wodianka specializes in data protection law and advises on complex process introductions with a corporate focus, the conceptual and operational support of data protection projects in the IT & digital business, life sciences & healthcare sectors, as well as in industry and start-ups (apps). He runs his own law firm in Hamburg, Germany. www.wodianka-legal.de
